Heart and Sword.

"Heart and Sword," the new romantic play to be produced in this city by Walker Whitesides on May 7th is a story of love and war, the plot of which is laid in an old German principality. The play is written along the line of "The Prisoner of Zenda," "The Prince of Hohenheim," and "Rupert of Hentzau". It is said to be intensely interesting and replete with thrilling situations.

Mr. Whitesides's managers, Messrs. Shipman Brothers, have provided an excellent company and an entire adequate stage setting for the production.

Robert Dow, Jr., C. H. Bowen, Thorne L. Phillips and T. J. Bradley drove over to Paris last Thursday evening to attend a social session of Rathbone Lodge, K. of P. They speak in the highest terms of the manner in which they were treated at the hands of the Paris brothers, and feel amply repaid for leaving the rough weather. Speech-making and an elegant lunch were the features of the occasion. [Winchester Sun.]

One of the most delightful entertainments ever given in the Opera House in this city was that furnished by Miss Caroline Lewis Gordon on last Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The house was comfortably filled and everyone present enjoyed the program. The singing of Miss Washington was also a highly enjoyable feature of the evening. Miss Gordon was unfortunate enough to lose her pocket book on the train the next morning on her way to Lexington, which contained about thirty-five dollars.

OBITUARY.

Rev. Geo. S. Seance aged 40 pastor of the Baptist church at Versailles, died of pneumonia, Wednesday.

Miss Matt Nash died yesterday, near Versailles, from the effects of a fall received some time ago. For many years she lived with her niece, Mrs. Matt Bedford, between Paris and Winchester.

Miss Jane Holt, aged about seventy-five years, who was formerly well known in Paris, died Tuesday in Idaho Falls, Idaho, and her body will be brought here for interment in the Paris cemetery Sunday.

Miss Jane will be tenderly remembered by a large number of the older residents of Paris. For a number of years she was a school teacher at the public school, and by her kindness endeavored herself to her pupils. In her daily intercourse with her pupils she was more like a mother to them than a teacher, and in consequence, attendance at school was more a pleasure than a task. A little incident will illustrate her tender hold upon the affections of her pupils. A certain pupil, who has since that time grown to man's estate, was especially fond of her. On a certain occasion, on returning from school he asked his mother: "Mamma, is Miss Jane God's sister?" His mother in surprise asked him why? "Well," said the youngster, "she is so good, I know she must be some relation to God." Miss Holt was an aunt of Mr. Ben Holt, of this city.

More About The Hospital.

Since reading the two articles in regard to a hospital in Paris, which were printed in recent issues of the News, a well known and prominent citizen has interested himself in the matter, and made a canvass of the town. He tells the News that he was surprised at the favor with which the proposition was discussed. "I will in a few days," said he, "go around with a subscription blank and ask every one to subscribe some amount, and I confidently expect the first day to receive guarantees of at least $20,000. The News seems to have a happy faculty for suggesting the right things for the good of Paris, and if its suggestions were carried out we would in a short time have a thriving city. But the best move it ever made was that suggesting a hospital. When the building is completed, which I predict will be inside of a year, it should in all fairness be named after the News, or your paper should be allowed to select the name."

The comments of this gentleman only reiterate the desire of others, who are daily visitors to this office to urge us to keep the matter alive by constant booming in the papers. If the other Paris papers will only take it up and assist the News there is no doubt but that in less than a year Paris will be enjoying the blessings of a first class hospital. Send in your communications on the subject and we will cheerfully give them space. But above everything don't pay any attention to the croaker, who is always ready to throw cold water on any project that is kind. In our next issue we will publish a lengthy communication which was handed in to date for this issue.

They Choose to Eschew Those Who Chew.

Last night at the residence of a prominent young lady of this city an anti-tobacco society was formed. The young lady members of the society pledge themselves to not associate in any way with any young man who uses tobacco in any form. The following verses expressive of the objects of the organization.

He who chews the nasty plug Shall never have my waist to hug.

He who will tobacco spit Shall be my own true loved one—nit.

BABY carriages and refrigerators are not always needed at the same places, but this is the season for both, and J. T. Hinton sells both. Best makes at prices for everybody.

THE President yesterday appointed Andrew McConnell, January Cochran, cousin of E. B. January, to be United States District Judge for the new created judicial district of Eastern Kentucky. He takes a column in the dailies to explain why he did not appoint ex-Gov. Bradley, when a line would have done as well. "Bradley told too much."

Matrimonial.

Mrs. Fannie Conney a bride of less than a week, committed suicide by drowning at English, Ind. She left a note saying "Married life is not what I expected."

Attorney D. B. Shawhan and Miss Lulu Smizer will wed at Cynthia on April 30th. Miss Smizer is well known in Paris having visited Miss Alice Spears several times.

Harvey Gray and Miss Cora May Dillon were married by Judge Smith at his office in the Court house yesterday.

No ladies' toilet table is complete without a bottle of "Antiseptine."

For ladies tailor-made suits and skirts, made by men tailors of long experience, see F. P. Clay, Jr., Box 324, Paris, Ky. (1t)

Right goods at right prices tell. J. T. Hinton's cheap suit papers are going, but there are still some left. And don't forget that he has just as many of the better grades at just as low prices as you find elsewhere.

THE Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. T. E. Ashbrook, on Duncan Avenue, yesterday afternoon and elected officers as follows: Mrs. R. L. Rutherford, President; Mrs. W. J. Neely, Vice President; Mrs. R. J. Davis, Treasurer; Mrs. W. O. Hinton, Secretary; Mrs. W. G. Talbot, Historian.

The next meeting will be held with the Misses Colville at Mrs. Amos Turner's on Friday afternoon, May 3d.

Stock And Crop.

Messrs. Nathan Bayless, Sr., and William Tarr, attended the horse sale in Lexington Tuesday.

Mr. James Kern left Tuesday for New York City, where he took a car load of fancy horses.

Messrs. E. P. Bean, W. L. Davis and Dan Peed, attended the tobacco sales in Louisville this week.

Brook & Rainsack shipped two cars of hogs from Austerville to Cincinnati yesterday for which they paid from $5.10 to $5.50.

Mr. H. V. Thompson, of Clintonville precinct, has bought quite a number of stock hogs at 5 cents.

Jas. L. Donnell, of Nicholas, sold to President Duke, of the American tobacco Company, of New York, a pair of carriage horses, Monday, for $800.

If you have anything to sell or buy—stock, crop or implements—try a two or three line ad in this column. The cost will be but little and the results satisfactory.

Capt. W. H. Bailey, of Louisville purchased The Dutchman at Woodard & Shanklin's sale of saddle and harness horses, paying $2,100 for him. The Dutchman is a noted show horse.

Tobacco dealers say that the plan of raising the weed in the shade is going to enrich the planters of Connecticut by millions of dollars. The Government last year experimented by raising tobacco under a shading of cheesecloth, and the product was worth 75 cents a pound. This year the farmers will try the scheme on a large scale.

WINCHESTER COURT.—On account of the awful weather, the court day was the smallest known for years and but few buyers would wade through the mud and slush to look at cattle. About 350 cattle were at Scobee's yards and some of them were left unsold. Sold 17 heifers, weight 500 lbs. at $20 each; 13 light calves at $16.50 each; 13 good yearlings, weight 600 lbs., at $30 each; 19 good steers $10 lbs. at 4.12 1/2 cts; a lot light calves at $30 each; some good two-year-olds at $40 each; pair of 700 lb. yearlings at $70; 9 small yearlings at 4.12 1/2 cts; 700 lb. cows at $25 each; some 900 lb. cows brought $3.35.—Democrat.
